

KEEN RIVALRY IN 36 ELECTIONS OF FEDERATION

Federal Employees' Branches to Continue Balloting for Officers Through October.

Spirited contests marked the election of officers of the thirty-six branches in the District of Columbia of the Federation of Federal Employees which began last week and which will continue throughout the month of October.

David R. Glass, president of the Public Health Service branch of Federal Employees Union No. 2 was re-elected president for the ensuing year. Mr. Glass has been a resident of the District for more than four years, having come to Washington from California to accept a position in the War Department. For the past two years he has been chief of the clerical instruction division of the Public Health Service.

During his employment in the Government service he has been an active worker in the interests of the government employees and rendered valuable aid in the reclassification program of the Union.

Other branches which elected officers during the week were the Library of Congress, U. S. Employees' Compensation Commission, the War Department, the Treasury, the War Risk and St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Copyright Office Elects.

Henry S. Parsons, of the Copyright Office of the Library of Congress was re-elected president of that branch of Local No. 2. Mrs. Lilla A. Shepley, also of the copyright office, was chosen secretary, and Mrs. Harriet J. Hifton-King, representative on the board.

Mrs. Margaret D. Brightwell was elected president of Local No. 3, branch of the U. S. Employees' Compensation Commission and Augusta P. Norton, vice president.

The War Department branch of the Union elected Pierre M. Kennerly, of the Adjutant General's office as president naming Walter Keeton, Miss Elizabeth Edes and Capt. John E. Brooks, vice presidents.

The General Accounting office branch, Federal Employees' Union Local No. 2, organized during the week and elected Howard L. Schouffer, of the war division, as president. Harrell C. Hoagland, of the Navy division, was elected secretary.

Other Elections.

Election of officers will be held during the week by the following branches:

Monday, Department of Labor; Tuesday, Interior and Panama Canal; Wednesday, Commerce, and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing; Thursday, Federal Reserve Bank; Friday, Geological Survey; and Friday, Board of Representatives, F. E. U. No. 2.

Other elections to be held during the month include the Patent Office, Civil Service Commission and Smithsonian Institution on October 18; Government Printing Office, October 19; Agriculture on October 20; Department of Justice on October 21; Federal Board of Vocational Education, October 24; Navy Yard, October 25; Interstate Commerce Commission, October 26; State Department and the Federal Trade Commission on October 27.

THREE VET ORGANIZATIONS THANK PUBLIC PRINTER

Resolutions of thanks to Public Printer George H. Carter have been adopted by three Washington veteran organizations for his re-orientation and great interest in the affairs of veterans employed in the public printing.

The resolutions adopted were passed by the Grand Army of the Republic, the United Spanish War Veterans and the American Legion and were presented to Mr. Carter on Monday last by a committee consisting of Samuel Mawson, William Sheave and Robert Williams.

LEGION TO AWARD HALLOWEEN PRIZES

Arranges Big Line of Attractions for Arcade Party on Night of Oct. 24.

All of the interest of the District of Columbia department of the American Legion is centered on the Halloween party to be held under the direction of the department the evening of October 24, in the Arcade.

This is to be the first of the winter social events of the department so the Legionnaires are preparing the plans with special care to insure its success. As dancing is to be the principal entertainment of the evening, the arrangements committee has engaged the best jazz orchestra in the city for the occasion. And, according to the plans, the dances are to be run off in rapid succession so that there will be no draggy intermissions.

The committee is planning on spending $1,000 on decorations and prizes for the special events. The decoration scheme calls for everything Halloweenesque from black cats to ghost-like balloons. Loving cups, ivory toilet sets and silver and gold safety razors are to be given as prizes to the winners of the most beautiful and the funniest costumes. Everyone is expected to appear in masquerade costume, but the reception committee is preparing to welcome all, regardless of dress.

Arrangements are being made to accommodate 1,500 couples and to keep everyone entertained all the time. For those that do not care to dance the Legionnaires are planning to entertain with novel stunts, which are to be sprung as a surprise.

WASHINGTON EX-FLIERS TO ATTEND FETE NOV. 11

Washington men who served in the air service during the world war will attend the third armistice dinner and reunion in New York city on the night of November 11.

Among the guests of honor will be Brig-Gen. William A. Mitchell, assistant chief of the army air service; ear Admiral William A. Moffett, director of naval aviation; Benedict Crowell, former Assistant Secretary of War, and Capt. Eddie Rick- enbacker, America's leading ace. The affair will be under the direction of the Aero Club of America.

RABBI LAZARON TO TALK AT CONGREGATIONAL CLUB

Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron, of Baltimore, will address an open meeting of the Congregational Club of Washington tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the First Congregational church, Tenth and G streets northwest.

Rabbi Lazaron, who served as a chaplain in the army during the war, has spent the summer in Europe and in Palestine, and will speak of conditions as he found them overseas.

CROMELIN QUILTS FEDERAL JOB TO PRACTICE LAW

Associates Himself With B. J. Laws, Also Former Assistant District Attorney.

Paul B. Cromelin, assistant district attorney for more than two years, during which period he has handled most of the important criminal cases tried in the District Supreme Court, resigned Friday. Mr. Cromelin, who will be associated with Bolitha J. Laws, also a former assistant district attorney, tendered his resignation to District Attorney Peyton Gordon. It was accepted.

Mr. Cromelin is a graduate of the Business High School and the Georgetown Law School. He is president of the Alumni Association of Business High School. In September, 1917, he enlisted as private in the United States army, was commissioned a second lieutenant at Kelly Field, San Antonio, January, 1918, and was finally promoted to the rank of captain, Air Service. Following his discharge in February, 1919, he was appointed an assistant United States district attorney.

Prosecuted Many Cases.

As assistant United States attorney, Mr. Cromelin has been in charge of a large number of the most important cases in this district, representing the government both in civil and criminal matters. He has been successful in every government case with which he has been identified in the last nineteen months. Among the more important trials he has conducted were the two trials of Louis Randall, negro, who was twice convicted of criminal assault upon white women; the conviction of John McHenry, who, after robbing and murdering Wallace Mulcare, an automobile accessory, was sentenced to life in prison; the conviction of a four-man street northwest, shot and killed Detective Sergeant James Armstrong in the Union Station, in December, 1920; the conviction of Edgar Randolph Ferrigno, the 17-year-old boy, now awaiting execution for the murder of Mrs. Mary Emily Faithful at Congress Heights; the celebrated Arstein case, in which Arstein and his associates, David W. Sullivan and Wilton E. Eastland, stock brokers, and Norman S. Bowles, a lawyer, were convicted of conspiracy to dispose of five million dollars' worth of bonds stolen from Wall Street; the trial of William Henry Campbell, who was indicted for later executed for the murder of Mrs. Gertrude H. Mann, the music teacher, on Rodman street, Cleveland Park, in February, 1920; the trial of William J. Reid, the celebrated swimmer and forger who defrauded Boes & Phelps of $10,000, and is now serving a sentence of thirty years; the Pierce street shooting cases; and a number of other important murder and hold-up cases.

Appeared in Civil Suits.

Mr. Cromelin also successfully conducted a number of hand-book cases and represented various government officials and Cabinet officers in civil suits filed against the government.

He is a member of George Washington Post No. 1, American Legion, and Sigma Phi Fraternity, and secretary and past master of Benjamin B. French Lodge No. 15, F. A. M., a member of the Board of trustees of Trinity M. E. Church; president of the Association of Shipyard Masters, 1920; member of Mt. Vernon Chapter No. 3, R. A. M.; Lebanon Chapter, O. E. S.; Gavel Club, Almas Temple of the Mystic Shrine, the Level Club of Washington Grove, and is a thirty-second degree Mason.

Mr. Cromelin and Mr. Laws will have offices in the Albee Building, adjoining those of John E. Laskey, who recently resigned as United States attorney.

RESIGNS

Paul B. Cromelin, who has resigned as Assistant District Attorney of the District of Columbia to enter private practice here.

FALLS CHURCH PUTS STREETS IN ORDER

Popular Fund to Be Augmented by Tax Levy to Pay for New Paving.

FALLS CHURCH, Va., Oct. 8.—Money raised by popular subscription is being used for reconstruction of the pavement of Washington and Broad streets, and through an additional special tax levy of 50 cents on $100 it is hoped the entire cost of the improvement will be covered. A petition is now in circulation which, when signed by two-thirds of the resident taxpayers, will authorize the town council to levy the special tax.

The construction is of crushed rock surfaced with tarvia, with adequate drainage at either side to insure a dry and lasting roadbed. The estimated cost is $10,000 per mile. Stone is now being taken from Tripp's quarry for the use of Arlington county in building the portion of the Aqueduct Bridge road extending from the end of the concrete road near Cherrydale to the limits of Falls Church. When all is finished this fall there will be an exceptionally fine road from the Aqueduct bridge at Georgetown to the Leesburg pike, said to be the longest stretch of straight road east of the Mississippi river.

GIVE ART SCHOLARSHIPS TO WASHINGTON PUPILS

GEORGETOWN PLANS ALUMNI IN CLUBS

Each State Will Have One. Founders' Day to Be Celebrated.

Plans are being made at Georgetown University School of Law to observe Founders' Day, January 29, on a scale rivaling in student activities the celebration of the Golden Jubilee anniversary.

Announcement by Assistant Dean Hugh J. Fegan of tentative plans for the organization of a state club for each of the forty-eight states represented by the student body of the law school is the chief interest in the forthcoming anniversary. Georgetown Law School is perhaps the only one in the United States that has students in sufficient numbers from each state in the Union to organize an all-American association with auxiliary bodies representing half a dozen foreign countries.

The work of organizing the state clubs will begin immediately, it was announced. The students of half a dozen states have formed clubs in recent years. Even the smallest of the proposed clubs will have at least a dozen members while the District of Columbia will lead with more than 200, followed by Massachusetts with about 275 and Connecticut with about 200. With an enrollment exceeding 1,200 students, the importance of the state clubs in the activities of the school, especially during the annual reunions, cannot be minimized.

Out-of-town alumni will be invited to help make Founders' Day an important epoch in the history of Georgetown. The chief feature of the night will be a dinner by each of the forty-eight clubs, while a representative from each club will be appointed to a central committee which will make arrangements for a banquet at whose board a man from every state in the Union will be seated.

Encouragement is being given to the movement by Dean George N. Hamilton, the Rev. John B. Creighton, S.J., president of Georgetown University, and prominent alumni, who want to be able to meet the boys from their own States when they attend the annual reunions.

Sphinx Society is Host.

Under the auspices of the Sphinx Society, girl freshmen of George Washington University were entertained yesterday at a luncheon, held at 2023 G street northwest.

Toys Made Here By War Disabled Much in Demand

AN unprecedented demand for Christmas toys made by disabled former service men at the national K of C veterans' toy shop at St. Elizabeth's Hospital is reported.

"The toy cure for shell-shocked veterans was never more successful than it has been this year," Mr. McGinley states, "scores of the men being benefited by their light employment in the toy factory. Several men have been graduated from the toy shop this year as expert wood-workers."

"The Knights of Columbus wish to state publicly that many of the demands for the soldier-made toys cannot be filled, as the supply is naturally limited."

The toy factory, which is a unique reconstruction establishment, is one of the units in the general K. C. vocational training system for disabled and other former service men. It is in charge of James Kelley, D. S. C., Chateau Thierry hero.

SEE SCHOOL UPLIFT IN PRINCE GEORGE'S

Superintendent Hopes to Raise Standard of Scholastic Achievement by May.

If the school children of Prince George's county never realized what hard work meant, they will get a taste of the real article this year, if plans of the county school officials are carried out.

According to Prof. Nicholas Oren, newly-appointed county schools superintendent, the children of Prince George's county are sadly in need of "jacking up" when it comes to their studies. In fact, Prof. Oren says, the youngsters are considerably below standard in their scholastic achievements.

Prof. Oren told Maryland rural school officials last week at a meeting held in the Washington Public Library that he intends to bring the children of his county up to standard by May.

Best of all, Prof. Oren, addresses were made by Prof. Albert S. Cook, State superintendent of schools; Prof. J. W. Hallows, State supervisor of rural schools; Prof. Samuel N. North, State supervisor of high schools, and Miss Elizabeth N. Langfelt, county school nurse.

WOMEN TO DISCUSS FOREIGN MISSIONS

Baltimore Branch of Methodist Society to Hold Two Days' Convention Here.

The Baltimore branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church will hold its annual convention in Calvary Church, this city, next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The address of welcome will be made by the Rev. Dr. James Shea, Montgomery, chaplain of the House of Representatives. At three o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the delegates to the convention will be received by President and Mrs. Harding at the White House.

In the evening a dinner will be held at the Blue Triangle House, Twentieth and B streets northwest. The principal speaker will be Miss Twilla Lytton, national secretary of student work. A "mite box demonstration" will be given by Mrs. Paul H. Brown. The music will be furnished under the direction of Mrs. Cornelia L. Kinsella.

Among the speakers at the business sessions of the convention will be Mrs. William Fraser McDowell, president of the society; Miss Ethel Wallace, a missionary from Foochow, China; Mrs. E. L. Harvey, Baltimore branch corresponding secretary; Miss Lullie P. Hooper, secretary of the "home base," and Mrs. Reynolds, president of the Baltimore conference.

The local committee in charge of arrangements consists of: General chairman, Mrs. A. C. Giles; hospitality, Mrs. R. L. Ames; luncheon, Mrs. John C. Mulford; courtesy, Miss Helen Harman; ushers and pages, Mrs. Herman F. Carl; decorations, Mrs. C. W. G. Brett.

The meeting will close Wednesday afternoon with the Holy Communion administered by the Washington District Superintendent, Dr. John R. Edwards.

WINTER CLOSE AT HAND; ICEMEN SELLING HORSES

Cold weather is here to stay. One of the infallible signs of fall is being flaunted in every street and alley in Washington.

Watch the ice wagons. Every wagon of the American Ice Company bears, on either side, a poster announcing "Horses for Sale."

"Our regular autumn sale," declared an official, "we sell them every fall and buy others in the spring. Winter's close at hand. We have about eighty or ninety head left for sale."

THE SPECIALIST WINS TODAY

Note the successful men of this generation—each and every one is a specialist, content to do their one task at the highest point of efficiency. It is the harmony of these specialists that is pushing America ever forward—and you must be a specialist if you desire to keep step with progress. Drafting offers big possibilities to the man who wants to specialize.

Our Instruction

To begin with, you will study in the largest institution specializing in the training of Draftsmen. Your studies will be under the direction of experienced draftsmen, who are particularly proficient in teaching their knowledge to others and in developing your skill. Your work always has individual attention. You can complete your course in 3 to 9 months, according to the amount of time you devote to it. Fall term is now under way—night or day classes. Full information upon request.

Its Advantages

Graduates of our school will be found in every line of Drafting endeavor. Employers everywhere are always anxious to obtain the services of our graduates because they know the caliber of Draftsmen produced by us. You can master our course in your spare time. That permits you to retain your present position and at the same time qualify for a profession that pays big money.

The big feature of learning Drafting with the Columbia School is that you are absolutely qualified for a position as Professional Draftsman when you graduate, with the equivalent of several years' practical experience. Also "Columbia" is in touch with employers and co-operates with you in securing a satisfactory position when qualified.
